Cardiac arrest can strike a seemingly healthy individual of any age, race, ethnicity, or gender at any time in any location, often without warning. Cardiac arrest is the third leading cause of death in the United States, following cancer and heart disease. Four out of five cardiac arrests occur in the home, and more than 90 percent of individuals with cardiac arrest die before reaching the hospital. First and foremost, cardiac arrest treatment is a community issue - local resources and personnel must provide appropriate, high-quality care to save the life of a community member. Time between onset of arrest and provision of care is fundamental, and shortening this time is one of the best ways to reduce the risk of death and disability from cardiac arrest. Specific actions can be implemented now to decrease this time, and recent advances in science could lead to new discoveries in the causes of, and treatments for, cardiac arrest. However, specific barriers must first be addressed. Strategies to Improve Cardiac Arrest Survival examines the complete system of response to cardiac arrest in the United States and identifies opportunities within existing and new treatments, strategies, and research that promise to improve the survival and recovery of patients. The recommendations of Strategies to Improve Cardiac Arrest Survival provide high-priority actions to advance the field as a whole. This report will help citizens, government agencies, and private industry to improve health outcomes from sudden cardiac arrest across the United States. 20-1100 Running Start: Your Secrets to a Personal Trainer Career Ahead of the Pack is a timely book that covers all you need to know and then start your journey to becoming a personal trainer. This study aimed to understand users' 2019 opinions toward the Brayden model compared with the industry leader. Materials & Methods This qualitative study was conducted during basic life support courses at The University of Birmingham, between October 2017 and April 2018). Feedback was collected from candidates and instructors exploring usability (e.g. ability to correct speed of compressions) and reliability (e.g. incidence of manikin malfunction). A 10 point Likert scale was also used to record candidate enjoyment and confidence in CPR performance. Results Overall 188 candidate and 6 instructor responses were collected. Candidates reported finding the Brayden model more realistic (40% vs. 20%) and easier to use (53% vs. 46%), when compared to the Laederal model respectively. Approximately half of candidates using the Brayden model reported it to be easier to achieve correct rate (47%) and depth (51%). 28% of candidates reported initial confusion regarding the significance of the illumination feedback, however 58% reported good understanding by the end of the course. 66% of instructors reported illumination useful when teaching. Students said: "The lights were very useful- reinforced compression depth & rate" "Very good idea" "Feel the new manikin is helpful for those doing it the first time but is not as helpful for those who have done a similar course before" "Conclusion Overall some candidates found the Brayden Illuminating CPR Manikin useful and enjoyable to use. Initial confusion regarding the significance of the illumination feedback could be reduced with specific briefing prior to use, providing context to the illumination, ensuring students fully understand its significance and derive the most benefit. THE NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Transform your life using the Bullet Journal Method, the revolutionary organisational system and worldwide phenomenon. The Bullet Journal Method will undoubtedly transform your life, in more ways than you can imagine' Hal Elrod, author of The Miracle Morning In his long-awaited first book, Ryder Carroll, the creator of the enormously popular Bullet Journal organisational system, explains how to use his method to: * TRACK YOUR PAST: using nothing more than a pen and paper, create a clear, comprehensive, and organised record of your thoughts and goals. * ORDER YOUR PRESENT: find daily calm by prioritising and minimising your workload and tackling your to-do list in a more mindful and productive way. * PLAN YOUR FUTURE: establish and appraise your short-term and long-term goals, plan more complex projects simply and effectively, and live your life with meaning and purpose. Like many of us, Ryder Carroll tried everything to get organised - countless apps, systems, planners, you name it. Nothing really worked. Then he invented his own simple system that required only pen and paper, which he found both effective and calming. He shared his method with a few friends, and before long he had a worldwide viral movement. The system combines elements of a wishlist, a to-do list, and a diary. It helps you identify what matters and set goals accordingly. By breaking long-term goals into small actionable steps, users map out an approachable path towards continual improvement, allowing them to stay focused despite the crush of incoming demands. But this is much more than a time management book. It's also a manifesto for what Ryder calls "intentional living": making sure that your beliefs and actions align. Even if you already use a Bullet Journal, this book gives you new exercises to become more calm and focused, new insights on how to prioritise well, and a new awareness of the power of analogue tools in a digital world.  This book has been printed with three different colour designs, black, Nordic blue and emerald. We are unable to accept requests for a specific cover. The different covers will be assigned to orders at random.  Has companion: BLS basic life support provider manual.
