It is also being used more frequently than ever as an occupational placement exam administered in high schools. Development of the Air Force Precommission Screening Test-62 Feb 08 2022 The 1962 revision of the Air Force Precommission Screening Test replaces an earlier form for screening of applicants for navigator training and selection of airmen for the Air Force Academy Preparatory School. Sections of the test were constructed as short equivalent forms of five parts of the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test: verbal, quantitative, general science, mechanical, and scale reading. Results of a tryout of the new test with a high-aptitude sample of basic airmen demonstrated a suitable distribution of scores and high correlations between corresponding parts of the new test and AFOQT.

Development of Armed Forces Qualification Test 7 and 8 Mar 21 2023 The Armed Forces Qualification Test, the screening test used by all the services, must provide both a measure of general military trainability and measures of specific aptitudes. Following the research design for previous forms, experimental test items in four content areas developed by the separate services were administered to 3000 Armed Forces personnel for item analysis and item selection. Final forms were then administered to standardization samples representative of the mobilization population as a basis for conversion of test scores to percentile norms. AFQT 7 and 8 correlated substantially with preceding operational forms ( $r = .89 - .90$ ) and are satisfactory alternate forms for screening. Correlation of AFQT 7-8 with years of formal education ( $r = .53$ ) was slightly less than for the previous forms. Because of the high degree of equivalence of the two forms ( $r = .94$ ) established in samples totaling 600 cases, a single conversion table was established for AFQT 7 and 8. Based on experimentation, instructions for administering AFQT 7 and 8 have been made shorter and simpler than for previous forms, with no loss in test effectiveness. (Author).

AFQT Practice Questions Aug 26 2023 AFQT Practice Questions are the simplest way to prepare for the AFQT. Practice is an essential part of preparing for a test and improving a test taker's chance of success. The best way to practice taking a test is by going through lots of practice test questions. If someone has never taken a practice test, then they are unprepared for the types of questions and answer choices that they will encounter on the official test. There is a tremendous advantage to someone taking the test that is already familiar with the questions and answer choices. Another advantage of taking practice tests is that you can assess your performance and see if you need to study and practice more, or if you're already prepared enough to achieve success on your test day. If you do well on the practice test, then you know you're prepared. If you struggle on the practice test, then you know you may still have more work to do to get prepared. Taking lots of practice tests helps ensure that you are not surprised or disappointed on your test day. Our AFQT Practice Questions give you the opportunity to test your knowledge on a set of questions. You can know everything that is going to be covered on the test and it will not do you any good on test day if you have not had a chance to practice. Repetition is a key to success and using practice test questions allows you to reinforce your strengths and improve your weaknesses. Detailed answer explanations are also included for each question. It may sound obvious, but you have to know which questions you missed (and more importantly why you missed them) to be able to avoid making the same mistakes again when you take the real test. That's why our AFQT Practice Questions include answer keys with detailed answer explanations. These in-depth answer explanations will allow you to better understand any questions that were difficult for you or that you needed more help to understand.

Restandardization of the Armed Forces Women's Selection Test, AFWST 5 and 6 Aug 14 2022 Since operational conversion tables for the Armed Forces Women's Selection Test (AFWST-5 and -6)-based on a 1961 Air Force standardization--appeared to be scaled somewhat high for WAC potential enlistees, research was undertaken to bring the norms up to date. The tests were restandardized on a sample of 400 WAC enlisted women going through basic training at the WAC Center, and the new norms instituted. As a further evaluation, the basic trainee sample was doubled by including 400 women entering basic training in succeeding classes, and norms were again computed, this time on the larger group. Data were also obtained on 1000 examinees processed at Armed Forces Examining Stations in order to include rejected applicants, and norms were computed on the wider range sample. At the same time, data were obtained by which to analyze the effectiveness of the AFWST as predictor of performance in basic training and in a clerical training course. In the conversion based on the first WAC basic training sample, percentile scores for a given raw score were higher than in the earlier Air Force conversion, and permitted acceptance of a larger percentage of applicants. The two subsequent conversions based on WAC samples were almost identical with the first. The AFWST was found to be an effective predictor of academic grade in basic training. With respect to the clerical course, prediction was substantial both for academic grade and for total grade.
