What happens if you water plants with juice? Where can you find bacteria in your house? Is slug slime as strong as a glue stick? How would your child find the answers to these questions? In The Curious Kid's Science Book, your child will learn to design his or her own science investigations to determine the answers! Children will learn to ask their own scientific questions, discover value in failed experiments, and — most importantly — have a blast with science. The 100+ hands-on activities in the book use household items to playfully teach important science, technology, engineering, and math skills. Each creative activity includes age-appropriate explanations and (when possible) real life applications of the concepts covered. Adding science to your at-home schedule will make a positive impact on your child's learning. Just one experiment a week will help build children's confidence and excitement about the sciences, boost success in the classroom, and give them the tools to design and execute their own science fair projects. Craft sticks, ice cream sticks, coffee stirrers, tongue depressors, and even "icy pole sticks" are other names for popsicle sticks. Popsicle sticks are frequently employed for making popsicles and kid-friendly crafts, but they may also be utilized as a child-safe food skewer, do-it-yourself bookmark, fire starter, hem weight, and a label for gardening that you can bury in the ground. The great thing about popsicle sticks is that they can be used to create a variety of interesting and useful crafts. Everybody loves to make stuff, especially kids. What makes these graffiti signs so awesome is that they are made with a material kids love, popsicle sticks. But they look like authentic, professional wood signs, so adults will love making them, too. There is no end to what you can do with this unique craft. This book covers popsicle-stick-graffiti sign making in detail from start to finish. Start with a graffiti word you design or one you find around town. Make graffiti signs for your home, school, or office. Make signs for every occasion. Need to make something to sell at your local craft fair or pop-up shop? Or a handmade item to donate to your local animal shelter's fundraiser? A Popsicle-Stick-Graffiti sign is the perfect choice!
