Brilliant coder Amber Sinclair is determined to get justice against billionaire Roger Butler, who she believes stole her revolutionary programming and launched an empire. Posing online as an alluring elf princess, she attempts to seduce and trick Roger into confessing. But the more they connect both online and off, the more Amber battles her own growing feelings for her enemy. Kind yet lonely Roger finds his anonymous online persona allows him to open up in ways real life doesn't. When he discovers the beguiling elf princess is none other than Amber Sinclair, part of him knows he should retreat. But he's drawn to her like a moth to a flame, even as allegations roil about his company stealing her work. As Roger and Amber untangle secrets, wounds, and sizzling chemistry, their journey refuses to follow a simple path. Friends provide laughter and support, but Roger and Amber face their deepest struggles alone. With trust hard won after betrayal, can fierce forgiveness triumph over simmering anger? When a dramatic revelation provides the ultimate test, both Roger and Amber are faced with their most difficult choice. Will doubts and pride prevail, or will reckless hearts win out despite the risks? What will it take for a clueless billionaire and a guarded coder to find their happily ever after? Simon Benson made the biggest mistake of his life when he made his first billion and he's lived to regret it. Older and hopefully wiser, he's desperate to get Ruby Costello to fall in love with him again. In his eyes, they're meant to be together and it was a stupid mistake that broke them apart, one he's regretted ever since. An invitation to the annual fundraiser for the animal rescue centre she manages seems like the obvious answer. This is his chance to make good and use his money for something that matters to both of them. He bids an outrageous amount of cash for a week of dates with Ruby. She's horrified but she can hardly turn him down. The centre needs all the money she can raise, even if it means spending time with the man she thought she would once marry and still holds a firm place in her heart. Now Simon has seven dates to prove they never should've broken up in the first place. But can Ruby trust him not break her heart again? They have it all...except the one thing that matters most. Derek Hughes is on the run. After a local TV station names him "Silicon Valley's Most Eligible Bachelor," his photo is blasted across the internet. He's spent years building a new identity for himself to get away from his past and now it's all blown out of the water. TV reporter Renee Forrester is recovering at an inn on her favorite island when Derek Hughes falls into her life. Recently fired from her job, Renee is taking a few days to recharge before starting her job search. But when a missing billionaire walks into the room, she sees an opportunity to get the story of her career. When that billionaire believes her cover story that she's a chef--and offers her a job on his yacht--she immediately jumps at the opportunity. Derek is intrigued by the beautiful woman who has suddenly appeared in his life. He tells her his name is David Humphreys and he's a yacht salesman. As he gets to know her, though, he begins to feel guilty that he's lying to her about his true identity. Little does he know that Renee is deceiving him, too. Will the truth destroy the relationship they're beginning to build? When a Valentine's Day contest for Arizona's Cutest Couple throws two romance-challenged friends together, will a fake engagement help them win the prize? All Penny Merrill wants to do is run her own sweet shop in ritzy Scottsdale, Arizona, but her money-hungry mother and conniving stepfather are making it nearly impossible to keep her dream alive. When Penny finds an advertisement for a Valentine's Day contest for Arizona's Cutest Couple, with the winnings being enough to enable her to hold on to her floundering business, she comes up with an idea that might just work--if she can find the right man for the job. Commercial contractor Preston Ames is starting to develop feelings for Penny, and even though he's been through enough heartache to know that he should avoid her at all costs, he can't keep himself from visiting her sweet shop every day. When Penny asks him to participate in a crazy scheme so that she can overturn her stepfather's underhanded business ploy, Preston hesitates, wanting to keep the fact that he's a billionaire a secret. However, one look into her soulful blue eyes and he's a goner. Everything seems to be going well for Penny and Preston . . . until they compete against a couple whose heartache transcends all of their misconceptions about love. When all is said and done, will they do the right thing and, in the process, discover a bond that is greater than they thought was even possible? Can just one picture turn Penny into Preston's sweet Valentine? Find out in this Christian romance featuring a fun holiday contest! I ran into a billionaire... Literally ran into him... series is a sweet, clean contemporary billionaire series filled with swoon-worthy heroes and plenty of romantic moments. Jackson Aldridge has been deemed the second most eligible bachelor in Seattle, Washington three years running. He's an intelligent, handsome billionaire at the top of his game who lives by a strict set of rules. But when a high-risk investment goes South, Jackson will need to re-evaluate his lifestyle and his rules to prevent his glass house from shattering into a million pieces. Rule No. 1: Business always before pleasure Rule No. 2: Time is money Rule No. 3: No long-term relationships because they're time consuming and emotionally draining. Rule No. 4: Never fall in love because love hurts, and Rule No. 5: Never, ever get married because divorce is inevitable

Eve Scott owns Pick of the Litter until the bank unexpectedly sends her an eviction notice. She needs to either come up with the next balloon payment in thirty days or she's out on the streets. In dire straits, Eve asks for help from the one person she's avoided for years--Jackson Aldridge--a womanizing, emotionally bankrupt, commitment phobe, who just happens to be her best friend's scandalous brother. Jackson needs to recoup his losses before their company goes belly up. Eve needs to keep Pick of the Litter afloat or lose her life's work. They say opposites attract, but can these two find enough common ground to prevent life as they know it from imploding before their very eyes? Two lives in upheaval, one fake marriage, and a set of rules meant to be broken. What could go wrong? A famous boss. A secret identity. And a hilarious road trip to love. Yes. Yes, Rosie does have a crush on Isaac, her YouTube-famous boss. Does she ever talk to him? Absolutely not. Crippling social anxiety can do that. But Rosie is nothing if not tenacious. Ignoring her friends' advice to just talk to him already (Nope, that's way too hard), she instead opts to pursue a virtual relationship with Isaac using a secret identity. The plan is genius. Online, Rosie has social skills she'd never dream of having in person. She's possibly even cool. If Isaac can just get to know her, he'll see how amazing she is. But then a spontaneous road trip throws Rosie and Isaac together, and their virtual and in-person lives collide. (Eleven hundred miles in a seventy's era VW hatchback? What could possibly go wrong?) Much to Rosie's surprise, she doesn't constantly humiliate herself. Conversation is easy, and their chemistry? It's pretty much off the charts. But every road trip is bound to hit a speed bump or two. Will Rosie's secret identity be the thing that brings them together? Or the thing that tears them apart? He let her go once. After Dalton and his friends wind up in jail, they make a Christmas bet to see who can find their first loves and fall in love. It's winner takes all in this sweet second chance romance and Dalton refuses to lose. My best friend used to be a giant nerd. Now that he's rich and famous, he can have anything he wants. But what if what he wants...is me? Who would have guessed that my nerdy BFF would become an overnight success? Not even Oliver expected the dating app he'd created for a high school coding class to take off the way it had, or for a mega-corporation to acquire it. And as for that whole insta-celebrity situation? Yeah, no one saw that coming. Not that I'm complaining, mind you. Oliver's sudden windfall definitely has its perks, especially for me, his oldest and closest pal.

Limos and private jets? Don't mind if I do. But there are downfalls, too. Ones I definitely hadn't seen coming. Like the fact that my dork of a bestie is suddenly in demand with the ladies. Oliver has always been cute, but never cool. And game? Well, the guy just didn't have it. Until now, it seems. Money might not buy love, but it can get you a fresh look. New clothes, new haircut, new glasses...and what do you know? My tall, nerdy BFF is now a hottie, and every girl wants him. If he can have any girl he wants, then why is he kissing me? I swore we would only ever be friends...so I guess the better question is: why don't I want him to stop? She's kept the same daily schedule for the past four years, arriving at the same building and sitting at the same desk. She loves the familiarity of it all. Unpredictability makes her feel out of control. Nicholas Shaw lives life by the seat of his pants. He's intrigued by the classy, statuesque blonde who works for his college roommate and longtime friend. She's exactly the type of woman his family would expect him to marry. In fact, if she were his wife, he could put an end to his mother's persistent matchmaking, once and for all. At least it would get him through his brother's upcoming wedding. Charlie resists the offer at first, but her ten-year high school reunion is coming up. Arriving with a billionaire next to her is just what she needs to finally stick it to the classmates who were so mean to her. They agree to pretend to be married for a week, then go their separate ways. What they don't expect is that they'll fall in love. The Silicon Valley

Billionaires series is a sweet, clean contemporary billionaire series filled with swoon-worthy heroes and plenty of romantic moments. One minute I'm a promising law grad with grand ideas of changing people's lives; the next I'm persona non grata thanks to a tiny little incident where I may or may not have stabbed my boss. Now I'm unemployable, broke, and almost desperate enough to move back home with my parents. This is rock bottom. Until it hits me in the very annoying but not wrong advice of my mother. It's just as easy to fall in love with a rich man as it is a poor man. And that, ladies and gentlemen, is why I'm on a Hail Mary mission to an exclusive resort in Hawaii to finally find...the one. The billionaire one, that is. But when a sinfully sexy bartender gets it into his head that maybe he's the one, things start to get complicated. I'll have to decide whether Mother really does know best or if it's time to finally trust my heart... Take a decadent and sizzling armchair vacation to the South of France this summer ... Josie thought she was getting a promotion at her architectural firm, but instead her career implodes. She impulsively takes up her roommates' offer to nanny for a little girl on a mega yacht in the South of France. Even though she can't stand boats, this seems like fate giving her an opportunity to lick her wounds in a bucket list paradise while she figures out how to get her life back. But this little girl she's arrived to look after has a daddy. A widowed, hot, billionaire of a daddy. And if there's anything that Josie needs less than having to be stuck on a yacht, no matter how luxurious, it's an inconvenient and highly-combustible attraction to her new boss. A man who, for all his wealth, is grumpy, conceited, and utterly closed off. Xavier Pascale is on an emotional island of his own making. It's just him and his daughter and he likes it that way. He works hard, his shareholders are happy, his best friends are his bodyguard, and the people who work for him. What's wrong with that? But then he meets Josephine Marin. Her arrival in his life is like an earth tremor along a catastrophic emotional fault line. And now... well, now, he's very, very aware of his isolation and his very human need. But he can't be distracted. When he gets distracted terrible things happen. He should send her home. He really should. But what if he just takes what he wants, just this one time ... A workaholic and a hippie health nut? Perfect combination. The work ethic that's made Chad LaChance crazy rich has also made him sick. When his mentor banishes him to a holistic health resort in the middle of nowhere, he meets Heidi the health coach. And she's nuts. She wants to rub his feet with oil and feed him twigs. Heidi Leeman loves everything about her life. She has no idea that something could be missing until she meets the billionaire. He's a little grumpy, but she can't blame him. He's almost worked himself to death. When sparks fly, Heidi tries to ignore them. What would a man like that want with a woman like her? They are polar opposites--from different planets. But when Chad's stalker shows up, things get complicated quickly. Can they find a way to meet in the middle, or do they need to part ways and return to their separate worlds? for a change and a woman who wants nothing to do with him. Can he convince her that he's more than money? Hudson Jennings wants to get away from the world of business his father is trying to trap him in. He's seen what it's done to his family, and to his ailing mother. Why not buy a house in a small town and move far away from it all? Shannon Kendrick is graduating college after six long years of putting herself through school and working at a country club. She's ready to start her career and help people that are less fortunate. When she meets a guy who has it all and he's rude to her, she chalks it up to being a rich, entitled, son-of-a-billionaire. When Hudson needs to host an event, he is paired with Shannon to make the necessary preparations. She can't stand the sight of him, but her spunky personality and determination to do the right thing sparks a light in Hudson that he hasn't known before. He wants to know more about her, but he also wants to protect her from the life he leads. Shannon begins to see a different side of Hudson than she first expected. But she won't let herself get too close to a life of wealth that has caused her pain in the past. Hudson will have to decide if he's man enough to stand up to his father, and Shannon will have to choose whether to believe in Hudson or let him go.

If you like sweet romance stories full of faith and compelling story lines, you'll love Hannah Jo Abbott's Sweet Home Billionaire Series. As a billionaire, philanthropist, and the life of every party, I work hard and play harder—which occasionally gets me into trouble. It wouldn't be so bad if I weren't the soon-to-be CEO of my family's company. In order to appease my concerned parents, I agree to leave Manhattan and hide out until the media frenzy surrounding my latest mishap settles down. Which is how I end up in a cabin in the woods with my best friend's gorgeous little sister on her birthday. I'm definitely not the gift Tessa's expecting. We've never met before, but it's clear she's formed an opinion of me based on my playboy reputation—and it's not a good one. But we're stuck here together. At first, all we do is bicker, and it's easy for me to remember all the reasons I shouldn't touch her. But the more I get to know her, I'm surprised by how real and funny she is beneath her spunky exterior. Did I mention the woman can bake too? Keeping my hands to myself becomes more torturous than my exile. After all, having fun is what I'm good at. How can I resist showing her how to live a little? “Laurie LeClair is an amazing author. To be able to read a book and not want to put it down until finished, is a true art!!!” 5 star review

He's the bad boy billionaire. She's his best friend's sister—all grown up into a beautiful, sexy woman. He shouldn't cross that line. But off-limits never stopped him before... Bad boy, rebel billionaire Cooper Cormac gets in over his head when his best friend drops his sister into Coop's lap—well, not literally, but close enough. Now, he's her temporary boss and undercover bodyguard, trying to protect her from who knows what and tangled in a hot mess... Smart, determined Jessica Blakely lands in Boston for the summer before grad school begins only to discover her brother is nowhere to be found. And he's pawned her off on his best friend—her secret crush all those years ago when she was a nerdy foster kid. Can she just hide somewhere? Fast. Coop and Jess are feeling the heat build between them. She's off-limits in all kinds of ways. His friendship with her brother is in jeopardy if Coop so much as thinks about her in that way. Oh, but he does. Big time. Giving in to temptation may ruin everything in its path... Boss Billionaire is the next story in the The Cormac Family: Billionaire Sweet Romance series filled with love, family, heart, and humor. If you like sweet romances, witty banter, and happy endings, then you'll love Laurie LeClair's heartwarming funny romance. He's trying to outrun the past. She's racing toward the future. Too bad they're going in opposite directions. Billionaire race car driver, Raul De Luca, spent the last decade dealing with guilt from his father's untimely death. Convinced that fatherhood would only remind him of inescapable pain, he lives life in the fast lane, burying old desires of becoming a family man deep inside. Now that he's met the woman of his dreams, he can't wait to marry her and live his jetsetting lifestyle with her by his side. School principal Marie Maranzano doesn't need a lot out of life, but motherhood definitely tops her list. When a fairy tale romance with a famous billionaire starts to get serious, it's time to bring him home to meet the family and start planning for the future. When she receives a call to take in a foster child, she jumps at the opportunity, convinced that her big hearted boyfriend will be just as thrilled about it as she is. When two competing visions of the future collide, Raul has to find a way to break free from the past or risk losing his forever love. What's the one thing that could never happen to a girl like me? Dating a billionaire. Especially when he's charming, mysterious, and just a little bit of a bad boy... My summer is perfectly planned out: work hard and study harder. Between housekeeping shifts at Legacy Inn, I'm going to write the perfect college admissions essay to guarantee my acceptance into Harvard. There's no time for distractions. The problem? My essay SUCKS. I have nothing exciting to write about. Enter Cooper Monroe. Son of an A-list movie star and a powerhouse CEO, Cooper grew up in the lap of luxury in Beverly Hills. He's been banished to Legacy Inn for the summer, and I'm stuck working for him. Gorgeous, famous, rich -- and never wearing a shirt -- he's the ultimate distraction. He's the last person I should get involved with. So why does my heart beat so fast whenever he's around? Falling for him is NOT part of the plan... Wealthy businessman, Gabriel Bishop, rules the boardroom with the same determination and ruthlessness that made him a rock star on the rugby field. He knows what he wants, and he'll go after it no-holds-barred. And what he wants is Charlotte Baird. Emotionally scarred and painfully shy, Charlotte just wants to do her job and remain as invisible as possible. But the new CEO clearly has other plans. Dante Liakos had yet another challenge to overcome in securing his business empire's future, but this one was much more personal in nature - the need for a wife and an heir. Without them, he could lose control of the empire he had worked so hard to rebuild and expand. However, as he had found so many times before, turning a challenge into a success was about recognizing the right opportunity and acting upon it decisively. In Jayden Hart, he saw such an opportunity, enclosed in the rare combination of innocence, beauty and brilliance - a combination he couldn't resist despite his attempts to remain aloof from the relationship! Normally poised and self-assured, Jayden's world had taken an alarming turn. What initially had seemed like a nuisance was quickly becoming a significant threat to her business, her family, and her whole way of life! And she had no idea how to avoid catastrophe. Dante's suggested solution presented a potential lifeline, but with what strings attached? Would the solution be worse than the crisis that had required it? And how was she to avoid falling in love with her secret husband? Three Billionaire stories to steal your afternoon.
