Uncovers the tangled stories of censorship and literature in apartheid South Africa, drawing on a wealth of new evidence from censorship archives, archives of resistance publishers and writers' groups, and oral testimony. A unique perspective on one of the most repressive, anachronistic racist states in the post-war era. Just before dawn one winter's morning, a hijacked jetliner explodes above the English Channel. Through the falling debris, two figures, Gibreel Farishta, the biggest star in India, and Saladin Chamcha, an expatriate returning from his first visit to Bombay in fifteen years, plummet from the sky, washing on the snow-covered sands of an English beach, and proceed through a series of metamorphoses, dreams, and revelations."e; Hierdie werk is 'n kombinasie van oorspronklike (nuwe) navorsing, die herbewerking van vroeër gepubliseerde werke asook die verwerking van lesings en referate. Die bydrae van die bundel dra by om onontginde terreine te ondersoek en ander te verfyn in die lig van nuwe insigte."e; - Prof. Wannie Carstens, Noordwes-Universiteit Africa is rich in

(neo) traditional dances; yet, not much exists in the form of written literature on the subject. Even worse, existing documents date back to the colonial period and are often disparaging. Dance to Africans is what martial arts are to Asians. Embedded in them are some of the solutions to many of the problems wracking the African diaspora: gang violence, drug addiction, and high school dropout rates. When Guinea's Ballets Africains first bursts on the international scene in the late fifties and sixties, the black revolution in the US was in full swing. The troupe's emancipatory message enkindled in African Americans a new sense of cultural pride and a return to their African roots. For once, dance became something else other than ballet. With that burst of enthusiasm came the need to introduce African dances in the academia. Most of the research, however, focused mainly on dances which use drums (djembe). Departing from that tradition, in this detailed and richly choreographed ethnography on the Buum Oku Dance Yaounde, Thomas Jing's investigation into a xylophone-based dance opens up new research avenues and exposes the challenges involved. An Afrocentric theoretical framework to the research counters imperial notions of African dances, thus setting them up as a tool for emancipation. Die belangrikheid van Breyten Breytenbach in die literêre, kulturele en politieke landskap van Suid-Afrika kan moeilik oorskat word. As skrywer het hy 'n monumentale oeuvre opgebou wat bestaan uit digbunde kortverhaalbundels, romans, prosatekste, outobiografiese tekste, reisboeke, teaterstukke, essaybundels en skrywershandleidings. As skilder het hy 'n indrukwekkende korpus van werke geproduseer. As openbare figuur het hy hom volhardend bly bemoei met Suid-Afrikaanse toestande ten spyte van die feit dat hy vir die grootste deel van sy lewe buite die land gewoon het. Hierdie boek gee 'n oorsig van verskillende aspekte van Breytenbach se skryfwerk. Die lewer verslag van 'n jare lange belangstelling in Breytenbach se werk, veral sy poësie. In sy geheel reflekteer die boek die verskillende leesstrategieë waartoe die werke hierdie skrywer die leser uitnooi. Sommige van die hoofstukke ondersoek bepaalde temas in sy oeuvre, terwyl ander op spesifieke tekste fokus [vir die] plesier wat dit gee om woord vir woord met 'n Breytenbach-tekst te besig te wees. This volume vividly demonstrates the richness and wide scope of contemporary engagement with Greek drama in scholarship and performance. Key studies of the interaction between performance, politics and society range from the detection of Sophocles' infiltration of the culture through different kinds of evidence to modern performance in South Africa. Gender issues explored include Euripides' interest in female experience, especially the subjection of young women to male violence, and a study of representations in tragedy of homosexuality and pederasty. The role of drama, both tragedy and comedy, in the creation of Athenian identity includes a review of the way that dramatists used the T War to comment on current events and how drama could used to interrogate both pre- and anti-democratic forms authority. Aspects of tragic language and of comic performance are explored. The papers in this collection a revised versions of a selection of papers delivered at the Greek Drama III conference held at the University of Syd in 2002. The conference was the third in a series the fir being held in Sydney in 1982 and the second in Christch in 1992. The papers are dedicated to the memory of Kev Lee. The volume has contributions from P. E. Easterling, elites eventually led to a constitutional exceptio artis (a freedom) for literature. The various contributions in this informative and exciting volume explore the ambivalent and complex history of Reformed faith during the years 1960-1990 in apartheid South Africa. In the process light is shed on the role of Reformed churches in the struggle for justice, freedom and dignity. Parameters are simultaneously provided for defining the public role of Reformed faith in contemporary South Africa in the context of Africanisation and globalisation ...

an explanation of the unique role of the book and book collecting in South Africa due to the apartheid This book explores the power of print and the politics of the book in South Africa from a range of disciplinary perspectives--historical, bibliographic, literary-critical, sociological, and cultural studies. The essays collected here, by leading international scholars, address a range of topics as varied as the role of print cultures in contests over the nature of the colonial public sphere in the nineteenth century; orthography; iimbongi, orature and the canon; book-collecting and libraries; print and transnationalism; Indian Ocean cosmopolitanisms; books in war; how the fates of South African texts, locally and globally, have been affected by their material instantiations; photocomics and other ephemera; censorship, during and after apartheid; books about art and books as art; local academic publishing; and the challenge of 'book history' for literary and cultural criticism in contemporary South Africa. This book is a critical study of South African literature, from colonial and pre-colonial times onwards. Christopher Heywood discusses selected poems, plays and prose works in five literary traditions: Khoisan, Nguni-Sotho, Afrikaans, English, and Indian. The discussion includes over 100 authors and selected works, including poets from Mqhayi, Marais and Campbell to Butler, Serote and Krog, theatre writers from Boniface and Black to Fugard and Mda, and fiction writers from Schreiner and Plaatje to Bessie Head and the Nobel prizewinners Gordimer and Coetzee. The literature is explored in the setting of crises leading to the formation of modern South Africa, notably the rise and fall of the Emperor Shaka's Zulu kingdom, the Colenso crisis, industrialisation, the colonial and post-colonial wars of 1899, 1914, and 1939, and the dissolution of apartheid society. In Heywood's study, South African literature emerges as among the great literatures of the modern world. The series builds an extensive collection of high quality descriptions of languages around the world. Each volume offers a comprehensive grammatical description of a single language together with fully analyzed sample texts and, appropriate, a word list and other relevant information which is available on the language in question. There are restrictions as to language family or area, and although special attention is paid to hitherto undescribed languages new and valuable treatments of better known languages also included. No theoretical model is imposed on the authors; the only criterion is a high standard of scientific quality. To discuss your book idea or submit a proposal, please contact Birgit Sievert.

In 1 Korintiërs hoofstuk 13 word die voorbeeld van 'geestelike liefde' uitgebeeld. Dit vertel vir ons omtrent God se liefde wie Sy enigste gebore Seun gestuur het, om ons wie bestem was om as gevolg ons sondes te sterf, te kom red, en die Here se liefde was so liefgehad het, dat Hy al Sy hemelse glorie prysgegee het en aan die kruis gesterf het. Indien ons ook die liefde van God aan die baie sterwende siele in die wêreld wil oorleef moet ons hierdie geestelike liefde besef en dit beoefen.
