La relazione tra commercio e cambiamento climatico è molto complessa e le interazioni tra i due fenomeni si manifestano in molteplici modi. I meccanismi sono sia diretti che indiretti e le caratteristiche globali degli impatti sul clima e le relative responsabilità incrementano le difficoltà interne al dibattito politico. A tal fine, una profonda conoscenza dei collegamenti tra settori e regioni come così come tra diversi livelli decisionali, è un prerequisito per gli esercizi di valutazione delle politiche climatiche e/o commerciali. Dies ist der letzte Band der überlieferten Tage- und Notizbücher Rudolf Virchows. Christian Andree hat die oft unlesbar erscheinenden Handschriften in jahrzehntelanger Arbeit transkribiert und legt sie mit den vielen bisher völlig unbekanntenen Abbildungen und Handzeichnungen hier erstmals vor. Wie die anderen schon erschienenen Notiz- und Tagebücher weist auch der Inhalt dieses Bandes auf Virchows damalige jeweilige wissenschaftliche Hauptarbeitsgebiete hin, deren führender Kopf – zum Teil als Begründer dieser Wissenschaften – er gewesen ist. Das sind nicht nur die Pathologie und die gesamte Medizin seines Zeitalters (er starb 1902), sondern die von ihm entwickelten und zu hohem Ansehen geführten neuen Wissenschaften Prähistorie, Anthropologie und Ethnologie. Ergänzt werden diese Einträge, die bis in die letzten Lebensstage Virchows reichen, freilich auch durch Medizinisches sowie Hinweise Virchows auf seine umfangreiche politische und Verwaltungstätigkeit sowie auf die vielen Kongresse, an denen er in verantwortlicher Position teilnahm und die die damalige Wissenschaft entscheidend vorantrieben. Aus Europa und Nordafrika (am umfangreichsten aus Ägypten von seiner Reise mit Schliemann) finden sich in diesem Band Natur- und persönliche Erlebnis-, Landschafts- und Reiseschilderungen neben solchen zum Haus- und Wohnungsbau sowie zu allen Epochen der Prähistorie, Anthropologie und Ethnologie. Der Band beinhaltet zehn (je fünf) Notizbücher und Kalender aus den Jahren 1887–1902. Da wir hier die Urnotizen Virchows zu den einzelnen Themen haben, hat der Herausgeber die darauf aufbauenden entsprechenden Publikationen Virchows in den Anmerkungen nachgewiesen. Aber nicht immer ist aus einer Notiz Virchows eine seiner vielen Publikationen geworden. Vieles steht auch für sich allein und dürfte heutige Fachforscher entsprechend interessieren, da vieles Material, insbesondere aus Osteuropa, inzwischen durch die Kriege vernichtet bzw. unidentifizierbar geworden ist. Preußischer Medicinal-Kalender 1902 Gesamtregister von Christian Andree: Sachregister, Personen-, Institutionen- und Literaturregister, Orts- und geographische Namen. Quellenverzeichnis, Abkürzungsverzeichnis This is the last volume of Rudolf Virchow's surviving diaries and notebooks. Christian Andree has devoted decades to the transcription of the often apparently illegible manuscripts, and presents them here for the first time with many previously unknown illustrations and sketches. Like the diaries and notebooks already published, the contents of this volume indicate Virchow's main fields of work at the time, fields in which he was a leading figure – and in some cases the founder of the discipline. These entries are supplemented by medical matters and references to Virchow's wide-ranging political and administrative activity and to the many congresses in which he took a leading role. Otto Hüther and Georg Krücken analyze the developments of the last 20 years in their new book on German higher education. The foreign observer of German higher education, even the informed foreign observer, struggles to find denominators, not to mention common denominators of a bewildering array of approaches. Otto Hüther and Georg Krücken, in this book, do an absolutely splendid job of offering theoretical perspectives, qualitative and quantitative data, and comparative assessments This book discusses the main higher education structures in Germany, both conceptually and with a particular emphasis on recent developments like, e.g., the growth and differentiation of the system, governance reforms, and the Excellence Initiative. It analyses recent developments from an international perspective, as the German system is clearly embedded in broader, transnational trends. As such, the book provides a comprehensive and detailed account of both new dynamics and stable paths in the German higher education system. This book will be of interest to scholars and students dealing with higher education or Germany as an object of study (e.g. in education research, science studies, organization studies, sociology, psychology, political science), and to higher education managers, leaders, and policymakers who are interested in recent trends in German higher education Der Entwurfsatlas für den Wohnungsbau stellt Bauprojekte aus 50 Jahren vor: mit Grundrissen in einheitlichem Maßstab (1:200) und Datensteckbriefen. Im Mittelpunkt stehen dabei die Grundriss-Idee und die Besonderheit des Wohnungsgrundrisses, die in kurzen, prägnanten Projekttexten anschaulich erklärt werden. Zusätzliche Grundrissdiagramme helfen, die Grundriss-Idee noch schneller zu erfassen. (Quelle: Buchhandel.de). Il libro descrive e affronta alcune questioni tutt'ora aperte nel campo della costruzione di indicatori compositi. Si propone come complemento a riferimenti consolidati quali OECD handbook of composite indicators, e approfondisce temi che saranno certo oggetto di ampio sviluppo nel prossimo futuro, soprattutto nell'ambito degli indicatori di benessere e progresso umano. La prima parte del libro illustra lo stato dell'arte delle metodologie per la costruzione di indicatori compositi mentre la seconda parte affronta specifici nodi critici più recenti. Il libro fornisce strumenti utili sia a ricercatori con una conoscenza limitata degli indicatori compositi, che a studiosi interessati ad un aggiornamento su temi più avanzati. Mega-city regions are currently a frequent topic of discussion. Researchers are exploring the fundamentals for understanding the role of metropolitan regions and their social, economic, and cultural developments on a national and European basis. The responsible decision makers in politics and business are calling for new measures for greater urban areas. But that is just the start of the problem: Europe seems to lack an awareness for metropolitan regions. For the majority of politicians, planners, institutions, and residents the features of mega-city regions remain invisible. They are scarcely charted; there are no concepts for representing them or any direct sensory understanding of them in everyday life. The book is based on the understanding that the visual depiction of mega-city regions is fundamental to identifying, acting, and developing within existing concentrations of urban populations. Through essays from various disciplines the book approaches the phenomenon and discusses the necessity to visualize mega-city regions. 203 illustrations Shocking, intimate, often uncomfortably honest, these stories reaffirm Doris Lessing's unequalled ability to capture the truth of the human condition In the title novel, two friends fall in love with each other's teenage sons, and these passions last for years, until the women end them, vowing a respectable old age. In Victoria and the Staveney's, a young woman gives birth to a child of mixed race and struggles with feelings of estrangement as her daughter gets drawn into a world of white privilege. The Reason for It traces the birth, faltering, and decline of an ancient culture, with enlightening modern resonances. A Love Child features a World War II soldier who believes he has fathered a love child during a fleeting wartime romance and cannot be convinced otherwise. Magical Symbiosis. Ruprecht von Kaufmann's (b. Munich, 1974; lives and works in Berlin) work revolves around the human being in all his facets. A leading narrative painter, von Kaufmann chooses subjects that reflect his critical loyalty to the painting of modernism and visual language as a medium of storytelling. The latter can touch people by conveying powerful emotions: that is the idea behind Kaufmann's portraits, which confront us with vulnerable individuals. After the series of sensitive portraits of refugees published in the book form last year, Kaufmann's new monograph offers an overview of his work of the 2010s. With an essay by Sylvia Volz. L'impatto del diritto dell'Unione europea sugli Stati membri si concretizza, in misura determinante, tramite regole e principi dettati dalla Corte di giustizia e destinati a essere applicati dai giudici nazionali. Il buon funzionamento del complesso sistema derivante dall'interazione tra l'ordinamento dell'Unione e i singoli Stati membri presuppone, pertanto, un rapporto costruttivo tra la Corte di giustizia e le corti nazionali. Muovendo da tale premessa, il volume affronta le problematiche inerenti al 'dialogo' tra tutte le corti nazionali (di merito, supreme, costituzionali) e la Corte di giustizia. A tal fine sono stati chiamati a esprimersi, prima di tutto, gli stessi giudici che ne sono protagonisti: a questi ultimi è stato chiesto di illustrare, a partire dalla propria esperienza, le difficoltà di comunicazione, in senso ampio, riscontrate nel dialogo con la Corte di giustizia. Alla voce dei giudici si aggiunge, quindi, quella dei professori specializzati nel diritto comparato ed europeo. "Writingplace: investigations in architecture and literature marks a step forward in an emerging debate on literary means in architecture. It offers a series of reflections on written language as a crucial element of architecture culture, and on the potential of using literary methods in architectural and urban research, education and design"--Back cover. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 17th International Conference on Principles and Practice of Multi-Agent Systems, PRIMA 2014, held in Gold Coast, QLD, Australia, in December 2014. The conference was co-located with the 13th Pacific RIM International Conference on Artificial Intelligence, PRICAI 2014. The 21 revised full papers presented together with 15 short papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 77 submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on self organization and social networks/crowdsourcing; logic and argumentation; simulation and assurance; interaction and applications; norms, games and social choice; and metrics, optimisation, negotiation and learning. Places Where Things Seem to Work Differently. Okka-Esther Hungerbühler (b. Bonn, 1988; lives and works in Berlin) creates microcosmic dreamscapes sprung from a burgeoning pictorial imagination. The paintings unfold concrete narrative details and stories that the sculptures dismantle in gestures packing a punch. In the exhibition space, Hungerbühler, who studied in Thomas Zipp's master class, arranges her work to conjure up scenic moments; the sculptures, some of them vaguely robotic, seem to have anticipated the viewer's response and interact with the paintings. The question to which her hazy characters and creature sceneries appear to frame a response is this: how can one still tell fantastic, sad, and savage stories today? The publication Die Faule Nuss presents Hungerbühler's sculptures in characteristic conjunction with her paintings, a blend of figuration and abstraction that recalls Pop art and comic strips. With an essay by Maureen Dietrich and a foreword by Brigitte Hausmann. This book provides a detailed roadmap of technical, economic, and institutional actions by the wind industry, the wind research community, and others to optimize wind's potential contribution to a cleaner, more reliable, low-carbon, domestic energy generation portfolio, utilizing U.S. manufacturing and a U.S. workforce. The roadmap is intended to be the beginning of an evolving, collaborative, and necessarily dynamic process. It thus suggests an approach of continual updates at least every two years, informed by its analysis activities. Roadmap actions are identified in nine topical areas, introduced below. Each title in The Applause Libretto Library Series presents a Broadway musical with fresh packaging in a 6 x 9 trade paperback format. One, born with emerald green skin, is smart, fiery, and misunderstood. The other is beautiful, ambitious, and very popular. The story of how these two unlikely friends end up as the Wicked Witch of the West and Glinda the Good Witch makes for the most spellbinding new musical in years. Britain's main imperial possessions in Asia were granted independence in the 1940s and 1950s and needed to craft constitutions for their new states. Invariably the indigenous elites drew upon British constitutional ideas and institutions regardless of the political conditions that prevailed in their very different lands. Many Asian nations called upon the services of Englishman and Law Professor Sir Ivor Jennings to advise or assist their own constitution making. Although he was one of the twentieth century's most prominent constitutional scholars, his opinion and influence were often controversial and remain so due to his advocating British norms in Asian form. This book examines the process of constitutional formation in the era of decolonisation and state building in Asia. It sheds light upon the influence and participation of Jennings in particular and British ideas in general on democracy and institutions across the Asian continent. Critical cases studies on India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Malaysia and Nepal – all linked by Britain and Jennings – assess the distinctive methods and outcomes of constitution making and how British ideas fared in these major states. The book offers chapters on the Westminster model in Asia, Human Rights, Nationalism, Ethnic politics, Federalism, Foreign influence, Decolonisation, Authoritarianism, the Rule of Law, Parliamentary democracy and the power and influence of key political actors. Taking an original stance on constitution making in Asia after British rule, it also puts forward ideas of contemporary significance for Asian states and other emerging democracies engaged in constitution making, regime change and seeking to understand their colonial past. The first political, historical or constitutional analysis comparing Asia's experience with its indelible British constitutional legacy, this book is a critical resource on state building and constitution making in Asia following independence. It will appeal to students and scholars of world history, public law and politics. Originally published in 2005, Metropolis Vienna, like Heimito von Doderer's great novel The Demons (Sun & Moon Books, 1993) before it, follows several individuals in Vienna as their stories interlink with each other. But unlike von Doderer's work, which focuses on the events leading up to WWII, Rosei's novel concerns the beautiful Austrian city in the second half of the 20th century. A profound and moving novel that introduces one of the great Austrian writers to an English-speaking audience. A full-color art book showcasing the terrific and terrifying work of Sui Ishida, creator of the hit manga and anime Tokyo Ghoul. Tokyo Ghoul Illustrations: zakki features artwork and behind-the-scenes notes, commentary and ruminations from Tokyo Ghoul creator Sui Ishida. Discover the creative process that brought the hit manga and anime to life, in gloriously ghoulish full color. The evidence-based medicine movement has been one of the most important influences on medicine in the latter half of the 1990s. This textbook on evidence-based decision-making--basing clinical decisions on the best available evidence from systematic research--is ideal for healthcare, medical, and nurse managers. It explains how evidence-based decision making can be applied to health policy and management decisions about groups of patients and populations, rather than decisions about the treatment of individuals. Its first edition was well reviewed and highly successful, and this new edition builds upon the success of the first. The rapid increase in Internet connections has caused a dramatic rise in the technological and administrative difficulties experienced by LAN and WAN users and managers as they try to meet the demand for intercompatibility between diverse systems. This practical book addresses these challenges by covering the latest technological advancements, including high speed LANs FDDI, Fast Ethernet and ATM, token ring, TCP/IP, and more. Il volume offre un quadro complessivo dell'attività di ricerca svolta presso il Dipartimento di Economia dell'Università Roma Tre, con l'obiettivo di favorire collaborazioni con ricercatori di università italiane e internazionali e di fornire indicazioni agli studenti potenziali circa gli interessi che potranno perseguire iscrivendosi ai corsi di Laurea Magistrale o di Dottorato di Ricerca del Dipartimento. Il volume è suddiviso in capitoli, all'interno dei quali i progetti di ricerca sono raggruppati in base all'argomento trattato, indicando per ciascun progetto i ricercatori in esso coinvolti. Consultando il volume è quindi possibile sia individuare tutti i progetti di ricerca in cui è coinvolto ciascun membro del Dipartimento, sia identificare l'insieme dei progetti che afferiscono a uno stesso tema di ricerca. I progetti riflettono tutti gli interessi coltivati nel Dipartimento, che comprende studiosi di macro e micro economia, politica economica, finanza, statistica, matematica, economia aziendale, diritto. European law, including both civil law and common law, has gone through several major phases of expansion in the world. European legal history thus also is a history of legal transplants and cultural borrowings, which national legal histories as products of nineteenth-century historicism have until recently largely left unconsidered. The Handbook of European Legal History supplies its readers with an overview of the different phases of European legal history in the light of today's state-of-the-art research, by offering cutting-edge views on research questions currently emerging in international discussions. The Handbook takes a broad approach to its subject matter both nationally and systemically. Unlike traditional European legal histories, which tend to concentrate on "heartlands" of Europe (notably Italy and Germany), the Europe of the Handbook is more versatile and nuanced, taking into consideration the legal developments in Europe's geographical "fringes" such as Scandinavia and Eastern Europe. The Handbook covers all major time periods, from the ancient Greek law to the twenty-first century. Contributors include acknowledged leaders in the field as well as rising talents, representing a wide range of legal systems, methodologies, areas of expertise and research agendas. Nieto Sobejano Arquitectos founded by Fuensanta Nieto and Enrique Sobejano in Madrid in 1984 and with a branch office in Berlin since 2004, sets itself apart by virtue of an aesthetic of reduced yet powerful forms and materials. This publication presents the diversity of the projects on the basis of terms such as 'landscapes', 'roofscapes', 'memory and intervention', and 'light'. This book discusses the role of regional design and visioning in the formation of regional territorial governance to offer a better understanding of (1) how a recognition of spatial dynamics and the visualization of spatial futures informs, and is informed by, planning frameworks and (2) how such design processes inform co-operation and collaboration on planning in metropolitan regions. It gathers theoretical reflections on these topics, and illustrates them by means of practical experiences in several European countries. Innovatively associating ideas with knowledge, it appeals to anyone with an interest in planning experiments in a post-regulative era. It aims at an increased understanding of how practices, engaged with the imagination of possible futures, support the creation of institutional capacity for strategic spatial planning at regional scales. Distributed Artificial Intelligence (DAI) is a dynamic area of research and this book is the first comprehensive, truly integrated exposition of the discipline presenting influential contributions from leaders in the field. Commences with a solid introduction to the theoretical and practical issues of DAI, followed by a discussion of the core research topics--communication, coordination, planning--and how they are related to each other. The third section describes a number of DAI testbeds, illustrating particular strategies commissioned to provide software environments for building and experimenting with DAI systems. The final segment contains contributions which consider DAI from different perspectives.
